Expo Productions, Inc. is a full service exposition management company, specializing in trade show and event planning and development. Our company can initiate all the plans for your organization's show, seamlessly implementing them into a successful event, or we will assist you with specific areas of event production. The principals of our team have extensive knowledge and experience in the business and have organized some of the largest shows held in the United States. We excel at bringing exhibitors and qualified attendees together in an electrified selling environment.
